

Company overview

Since 1985, Accutool has been providing Manufacturing Companies with world class engineering solutions, delivering supply chain components, assemblies, production engineering solutions, fabricated products, Health & safety products & service.

Thousands of Accutool components have been used in orthopedic joint replacements, aircraft engines, defense robots, electronic process equipment, test equipment & Medical diagnostics equipment.

Our engineering solutions & support tooling division has helped to add value to our customers products delivering improved tooling and process parts to Clean room process equipment, hard disc manufacture, Oil & Gas drilling equipment, Orthopedic production processes, glass manufacturing and electronic devices.

Bespoke and standard Health & safety products supplied by Accutool are helping to ensure safe working conditions in manufacturing sites such as clean rooms, process plants and general work areas.

